THANK YOU FOR YOUR DONATION!

*A portion of proceeds helps support the 501(c)(3) nonprofit mission of Shows I Go To Tix Inc.

You might be wondering, why did we start a nonprofit? Well, here's the whole story:

Shows I Go To began in 2013, thanks to a challenge from my mental health counselor. Back then, I was in a rough place. I spent a lot of time writing—red pen to paper, filling journals with thoughts, mostly negative. He said, "Pick one thing you really love, and only write the positives about it." I resisted. I didn't feel like there was much positive in me at the time.

But there was one thing I loved: music. Going to shows, feeling the energy—it kept me alive. I gave in. I tried. One night, I stayed up until 3 a.m. (even though I had work at 9 a.m.) and published the first version of the website. It had a few short stories focusing on the positives throughout my night that I found when going to shows. The first three were Andrew McMahon, REO Speedwagon, and A Silent Film. It was an exercise in focusing on the good, and it worked. I kept doing it.

About a year later, I started getting comp tickets from venues and gave them away through the website and social media. From there, the connections began—writers, photographers, musicians, promoters, techs, and people like YOU. You're the reason we kept going. You're the reason we kept fighting to give out free tickets.

We used to always ask "Tell us why you want to go to the show" and we would read every story and pick the winners. It got to a point where the entries were so beautiful, passionate, and heartfelt that I often felt guilty for not being able to pick more winners. It was growing so much. We were helping so many people go to shows! It was incredible to see how much joy this brought people.

Then the pandemic hit. It gave us time to think and reflect. When we started back up, we made giveaways more accessible and in turn, more efficient: name + email & follow us—that's it. It allowed us to triple our impact, but something was missing. While I was so happy watching this little thing I put my heart into growing and growing, I missed the human connection, the personal stories that reminded me why this all began. How can we bring this back and allow people to share their stories again? How can we make sure we're providing tickets to people who really need them? Founding the nonprofit is the answer to all this.

That's why we started this nonprofit. Our mission is simple:
TO HELP PEOPLE IN NEED EXPERIENCE THE HEALING POWER OF LIVE MUSIC!

If you—or someone you know—needs music in their life, you can share your story with us. We'll do our best to make it happen. Visit showsigoto.org to Tell Your Story and Get Tickets. Not a storyteller? Enter our free tickets contests at showsigoto.com where we publish new free-to-enter giveaways every week.

Truly, thank you for your donation. Every dollar helps someone experience the healing power of music. Together, we are making a difference. Your contributions help us secure tickets to concerts, festivals, and events for those who otherwise couldn't attend. Whether it's financial hardship, celebrating a milestone, or simply overcoming challenges, your donation changes lives—one ticket at a time.

Thank you for being part of this journey. Together, we'll keep spreading the healing power of live music.

With gratitude,
Mitch Foster

FOR GARRETT!

This is all dedicated to our dear friend and founding member, Garrett East (1988–2024).

Garrett believed deeply in the magic of live music and its power to bring people together. This nonprofit is a tribute to his legacy and the love he shared with us all.

Cheers, mate!
